CHICAGO ROCKED BY EXPLOSION

Tons of Powder Stored in Warehouse Violating Law

Chicago—Six men and two women are known to have been killed and possibly seventy-five persons injured when two tons of fireworks and gunpowder exploded at South Halstead street, rocking the entire west side and laying a block of business houses in ruins.

The district where the explosion occurred is densely populated and after the survivors recovered from the first daze of the horror, there were scenes of panic and pitiful distraction. This was increased when the police began to dig into the smoking wreckage and carry out baskets filled with broken bones, lacerated arms, legs and other gruesome remnants of the victims.

Fortunately no fire followed the explosion or the death list would have been much greater and crippled victims caught under the wreckage would have burned to death before they could have been rescued.

Official inquiry into the affair brought forth the fact that between two and three tons of explosives were stored in a warehouse in the rear of the premises at South Halsted street. The warehouse was under lease to the W. Singer and N. Schaffer Company, dealers in fireworks. The storing of explosives inside the city limits is a violation of law.

JOHN BURROUGHS DEAD

Naturalist of World Fame Dies on Train.

Poughkeepsie (N. Y.)—John Burroughs, naturalist of world renown, died suddenly on a passenger train near Kingsville, O. His mind was clear and death came without warning while he was conversing with his nurse.

The great naturalist and author of outdoor books had hoped to return to his country home to die, and his last words, uttered a few seconds before death, were: "How far are we from home?"

Burroughs had spent the winter in California and was returning from there. About five weeks ago he underwent an operation for abscess. Serious heart and kidney complications set in, and he became so weak that he decided he must hurry home if his wish to die on the banks of the Hudson was to be realized.

CANNERY WAGE SCALE

Women Workers Affected by New Ruling of State Official

San Francisco—A new scale of piecerate wages for women engaged in the canning of asparagus and spinach has been announced. According to the new schedule, the 33 1-3 cents an hour formerly guaranteed to two-thirds of the women in the industry will now be allowed to one-half the women so engaged. That is, under the authority granted the commission of determining the number of apprentices allowed in an industry, this section will increase the number of workers to be designated as apprentices, and hence decrease the number entitled to the 33 1-3 cents an hour allowed trained workers. The new ruling will affect about 1000 women workers.

Many women workers in asparagus canneries in the eastern end of the county will be affected by the ruling.

Los Angeles—Second Lieutenant J. I. Sullivan and eight enlisted men of the United States Army Balloon School at Arcadia were seriously burned today when a balloon exploded after coming to earth near the Midwick Country Club, about eight miles from Los Angeles.

The men were: Sergeants Charles Hewett, Hugh S. Holt and H. Waufnock and Privates R. E. Clemons, William M. Cook, R. O. Smith, W. A. Dextradeur and John T. Dickey. All will probably recover, it was stated at the balloon school hospital, where they were taken.

LEGISLATIVE ADJOURNMENT

Sacramento—Tuesday, April 29, has been set for adjournment of the legislature, according to Assemblyman R. P. Renton, chairman of the assembly rules committee. It is expected that both houses will formally adopt a resolution fixing the date for adjournment. But whether the lawmakers will finish their labors by April 29 is another question. There are are fearful that it will be necessary to "stop the clock" at midnight of Friday, April 29, if the legislature is to complete its task.

SUPERIOR JUDGE OWENS DEAD

San Francisco — Superior Judge Henry M. Owens died suddenly in the chambers of his court at the City Hall at noon in San Francisco last Tuesday. At the Central Emergency hospital it was said apoplexy apparently was the cause of his death.

He had shown no apparent signs of illness, except a heavily flushed face.

DISASTROUS FIRE SWEEPS TOKIO

Hundreds Killed and Rendered Homeless in Japan City

Tokio—Fire, which for a time imperiled the entire city of Tokio, destroyed 1000 houses in the northwestern part of the city, injured more than one hundred persons, made thousands homeless and caused a loss estimated at about $12,500,000. Included in the property destroyed were three hospitals, a bank and several large business houses.

For four hours a violent wind drove the flames toward the heart of the city, causing a panic. Four thousand troops aided the firemen, but it was only when the wind let down that their efforts succeeded.

Scenes of terror were witnessed in many sections. Streets were choked with despairing refugees from the districts stricken, accompanied by carts loaded with furniture, the confusion being increased by sightseers. Many of the half-frozen fugitives bore infants. The mounted police had great difficulty in restraining incipient panics.

COPPER MINES TO CLOSE

Anaconda, Utah, Ray Con., Chino and Nevada to Suspend Work.

New York—Suspension of mining operations by the Anaconda Copper Mining Company, one of the largest producers of copper ore in the United States, was announced here by John D. Ryan, chairman of the company's board of directors, after four other concerns earlier in the day had made known their intentions of shutting down.

Lack of domestic and export demand was given as the reason for stoppage of activities by Anaconda and the other concerns, which were the Utah Copper, Ray Consolidated, Chino Copper and Nevada Copper companies.

Officials and others interested in the five companies expressed the opinion that the shutdown would be only temporary. Normal production, they said, would be resumed as general industrial conditions became better.

NAVY BALLOON IS MISSING

Five Men Disappear With Craft on Trip From Pensacola Base

Pensacola, Fla.—A naval free balloon carrying five men has been missing for several days. The balloon was in command of Chief Quartermaster E. W. Wilkinson, accompanied by a machinist mate and three marines as students.

The last information from the missing aircraft was received when two carrier pigeons returned with messages. One message was that the balloon was off St. Andrew's bay, Florida, drifting toward the open sea. The other said that all ballast had been thrown overboard and that the balloon was then at an altitude of only 100 feet and slowly sinking.

LINCOLN HIGHWAY BRANCH

Carson, Nev.—Word has reached Carson of a movement by Los Angeles interests to have a branch of the Lincoln Highway extend from Placerville to Los Angeles, through much of the scenic territory of Central California. It is understood that this course is considered preferable to having a branch of the great highway run from Ely to the metropolis of Southern California, and that it will offer greater attractions to tourists.

THE AMERICAN LEGION

(Copy for This Department Supplied by the American Legion News Service.)

ONE OF LEGION'S FOUNDERS

Walter H. A. Coleman, Adjutant London Post, No. 1, Organized Body in British Capital.

Although he is thousands of miles from National Headquarters, Walter H. A. Coleman, adjutant of London Post No. 1 of the American Legion, is in close touch with the entire Legion program. Mr. Coleman was one of the founders of the Legion at its first caucus in Paris and organized the post in the British capital.

Born in Philadelphia, Pa., Mr. Coleman was educated in private schools in that city and in New York. During his business experience in various departments of the Pennsylvania railroad, he lived in Philadelphia, New York City, Albany, N. Y., Indianapolis, Ind., and Bethlehem, Pa.

During the war Mr. Coleman served in the American Destroyer Flotilla, which had its base at Queenstown, Ireland. Since the war he has been connected with the United States Embassy in London.

London Post of the Legion took a leading part in decorating the graves of American soldiers buried in England Memorial Day, 1920.

HAS HUSTLING LABOR BUREAU

Nashville, Tenn., Post Tackles Hard Problem and Makes Most Efficient Showing.

In accordance with the general activity of American Legion posts in meeting the unemployment crisis as it affects the ex-service man, Nashville, Tenn., Post has tackled the situation with a considerable degree of Argonne enthusiasm.

An employment bureau has been established in charge of a Legion member, who devotes his full time to it. Both job applicants and employers seeking men are listed in a card index, according to their abilities and needs.

When a man applies at the Legion headquarters for a job, he is required to fill out a blank giving the following information: Name, address, place of birth, married or single; if he is an ex-service man, if he has dependents, special training and schools attended, with the extent of the education gained.

Trade test questions are: "Can you speak any foreign language;" "Do you understand card-index system;" "Can you operate a switchboard;" "Can you use a typewriter efficiently;" "Are you good at figures;" "Can you run an automobile or truck."

Trades included in the list of job applicants for one day were electrician, druggist, salesman, accounting clerk, bookkeeper, daughtsman, insurance salesman, machinist and mattress maker.

When the job seeker has filed his application, he is given a card to show that he has registered with the Legion bureau. When he is sent to an employer in response to a call, he is given a card of introduction stating that he is sent by the Legion bureau. His original application, together with the secretary's indorsement or estimate of the man, is forwarded to the prospective employer.

By arrangement with the negro post of the Legion, the employment bureau is able to answer calls for negro labor, applicants for work being listed with the negro secretary.

The work of the employment bureau is supported by funds available in the Legion treasury from a post show given last year. Another entertainment will be given soon to raise money for further operation of the bureau.

After being committed to the State asylum for the insane at Napa, William Eden, foreman for the Sutter Basin project, died at a hospital at Woodland of pneumonia. It is believed that his mental faculties were unbalanced following a dose of knockout drops administered in Sacramento, where he was robbed some time ago.

Bert Nixon, son of former Senator Nixon of Nevada, and well known in the bay region, was killed almost instantly when the automobile he was driving ran into a sewer trench in Salinas and overturned. Nixon suffered a broken neck and a fractured skull. He was alone in the automobile when the tragedy occurred.

FATAL EXPLOSION IN GRAIN ELEVATOR

500,000 Bushels of Grain Destroyed by Blaze

Chicago—Twelve men are believed to have been killed in an explosion of grain dust in the Northwestern elevator of the Armour Grain Company in Chicago. Three bodies have been recovered.

The explosion was so terrific that the glass in windows of homes for five miles around was shattered; a train of box cars was hurled twenty feet from the track, and the detonation was heard as far away as Benton Harbor, Mich.

The elevator in which the explosion occurred was completed last fall at a cost of $2,000,000, and is said to be one of the largest of its kind in the world. Normally about 5,000,000 bushels of grain are stored in it, but at the time of the explosion there was about 500,000 bushels. This was destroyed by the fire which raged after the explosion.

The explosion happened a short time after hundreds of workmen had quit for the day. Had it occurred a few minutes before many more would have been killed. As it was, the night shift, which is about twelve men, according to the vice president, had just relieved the afternoon shift.

These men were caught in the debris from the giant blast. The explosion tore the entire top off the elevator.

NAVY MEN ARE KILLED

Two Fatal Accidents to Airmen with Fleet

On Board the U. S. S. Pennsylvania, off Guantanamo (Cuba)—Walter Johns, a chief gunner's mate, was killed when he jumped from an observation balloon which broke adrift from the battleship Florida, off Guantanamo during maneuvers by the United States fleet. The body was recovered and taken aboard the hospital ship Relief.

A. R. McNiel, attached to the seaplane division of the fleet, was killed by the propeller of a seaplane shortly after the seaplane had rescued the members of the crew of another observation balloon which broke loose from the battleship Nevada. The body had not been recovered at last reports.

OVERLAND MAIL IS ROBBED

Mail Bandits Escape With Heavy Loot

Sacramento—Another mail robbery, which may mean the loss of many thousands of dollars to the government, has occurred on an overland train somewhere between Sacramento and Wells, Nev. Three suspects have been arrested.

Overland train No. 20, which leaves Sacramento at 6 o'clock in the morning and is due at Wells, Nev., in the afternoon, was boarded by a gang of mail thieves, who made their way into a sealed baggage car and slit open six of the regular pouches. An exact, or even an approximate estimate of the loss is impossible at this time.

The mail was a portion of that carried by aero mail service from San Francisco to Mather field, Sacramento. The flyer was forced to stay over at Mather because of engine trouble, and for that reason the mail was put on the baggage car of the Overland.

After the robbery had been discovered, it was learned that two suspicious characters, a white man and a colored man, had been seen to leave the train at Halleck, Nev. The white man was later arrested, as were two other suspects, but the colored man escaped.

EXPLOSION ON SUB-CHASER

Flames Damage Government Craft at San Diego

San Diego—An explosion of gasoline fumes in the engine room of the U. S. submarine chaser No. 273 at the reserve destroyer dock caused several thousand dollars damage before it was extinguished by fire-fighting crews from the destroyers and the fire tug William Kettner.

The flames charred the engine room and a section of the radio room before they were controlled.

No one was injured by the explosion, due, it is believed, to the fact that the greater part of the crew were ashore. The explosion is attributed to a short-circuited electric wire in the engine-room. A sheet of flame shot to a height of nearly 100 feet immediately following the explosion, creating intense excitement, as there were thirty-four destroyers and submarine chasers berthed at the reserve destroyer dock at the time.

This is the second explosion of its kind aboard submarine chasers at this port. The first occurred on No. 295 at the Municipal pier last year, when several bluejackets lost their lives.

James E. Glendenning, more than twenty years Justice of the Peace of San Jose and one of the best-known men of Santa Clara valley, dropped dead last week while leading religious services at a Presbyterian church.

CLUB HEARS INTERESTING PROGRAM

"The Short Story" was the theme handled in a most able and entertaining way by Miss Jessie Lewis before the Country Woman's Club Monday. Mrs. F. K. Bartholomew was on the same committee but was unable to be present, so the president asked for an assistant to relieve Miss Lewis of some of the reading. In her paper, Miss Lewis treated the various types of short story based upon the subject matter and also of the development of a short story from opening to conclusion.

Edgar Allan Poe was the originator of the short story in America and was a master of the type he principally chose, the weird and mysitical.

Other themes that make the background of a short story are the problem, involving an economic, political or social phase; special class or locality stories, as those treating of New England, the South, the mining or lumber camp, etc.; those dealing with moods or emotions—love, pathos and kindred feelings; adventures, where what the characters do is the important thing, not what they are; and symbolic ideas, under which are classed parables and allegories.

In illustration of the weird, the leader read Kipling's "My Own True Ghost Story", and for the locality theme Bret Harte's "Transformation of Buckeye Camp." "Mirandy on Telling the Truth", by Dorothy Dix, was given in illustration of the mood or emotion; and for adventure, O. Henry's "The Cap and the Anthem." Altgether the program was one of real interest and profit.

CAMPBELL BAND

The Campbell Boys' Band has been called to Cupertino for another of its delightful concerts and social enlivenment. So enthusiastic were the Cupertino boosters over the boys' playing that they are using the band for another drawing card to their community gathering Saturday night. The band will hold another of its own social evenings at the Campbell I. O. O. F. Hall Friday evening, April 8. Don't miss this occasion to materially boost the band as well as hear them play.

MORELAND LADIES ENTERTAIN PARTY

A rare treat was given those who attended the social gathering at Moreland Hall Saturday evening. Good talent was secured from San Jose and Los Gatos and a very appreciative audience enjoyed an interesting program.

Following the program the party turned to cards which helped the pleasant hours to fly. A bountiful lunch, for which the Moreland Good Will Club has an enviable reputation, was spread, completing a "perfectly scrumptious" time.

Incidentally the ladies added a neat sum to their building fund for completing the interior of the hall.

CONGRESS HEARS DRAMATIC PLEA FROM FILIPINO

Philippine Resident Commissioner Isauro Gabaldon

Washington. — "Must the heart of America beat only for the freedom of Ireland, of Poland and of the Czecho - Slovaks, and not for the independence of the Philippine Islands?"

This was the question Resident Commissioner Isauro Gabaldon of the Philippines adressed directly to the membership of the House of Representaives in a speech which was given very close attention and was frequently applauded.

"At one time," said Commissioner Gabaldon, "Congress had before it no less than thirty resolutions expressing sympathy with the aspirations of the Irish people, if not actualy urging England to grant independence to Ireland. At that time, also the Filipinos were knocking at your door. Out of the womb of war, many European republics were born, and America has rejoiced to uphold the same. And yet the claim of the Filipinos is still unheeded. Must there be exceptions, then, in international justice?

"My plea, gentlemen of the American Congress, is that you ignore no longer the repeated requests of a deserving people for an independence that rightfully belongs to them. The granting of independence now affords the United States a golden opportunity to give to the world unanswerable proof of its sincerity, its consistency and its altruism. It will be the greatest example of square dealing in the history of the ages.

"Do not think we are not appreciative of all you have done for us. We are. America has truly treated the Filipino people as no other nation has ever treated an alien race in all history. The high points of the American policy in the Philippines have been consistently inspired by altruism. We know that you were actuated in your labors by the desire to contribute to our own welfare.

"And we love you perhaps most of all for your solemn promise to grant us that which we hold dearer than life itself—our freedom. Independence is our national ideal. It is our all absorbing aim. It grows stronger every hour. For the spirit of nationalism never dies. Much less can it be subdued. We believe that we can never hope to be a sturdy nation if we are to rely forever on the magnanimity of the United States.

"America's task in the Philippine Islands is finished. What you have assumed as your sacred obligation in that part of the world has been fulfilled. A people with a medieval system of institutions has been transformed into a conscious nation, imbued with all that is modern in the activities of nations. And if you give us independence our gratitude to you will increase a thousand fold; it will last forever if you keep faith with us.

"There is but one issue in the Philippine question, and that is: Is there today a stable government on the Islands? In the Jones law you promised independence upon the establishment of such a stable government. Your own Governor-General has officially reported that there is a stable government in existence today, and we also have submitted plenty of evidence to substantiate its existence. Therefore, we hope and expect America will now carry out its pledge."

A MOST FAITHFUL SERVANT

A loyalty to duty is rarely so well demonstrated as in the case of Robert Blaine, who is jnst finishing nearly twenty-three years of service with the Southern Pacific Co., as mail carrier. During this period he has not faifed to be on time, neither has he had a vacation. Through times of illness, bad weather and mornings before the break of day, "Bob" has been on time to meet the mail.

On April 1, the Government assumes charge of the mail to and from the trains, and it will be with pleasure that the local post office will welcome Robert Blaine officially as one of its members, and an employee of the Government. He is able to number his friends by hundreds, as was demonstrated during the time of his making his change of employers, by the frequent and anxious inquries as to the chance of his being retained.

A WEDDING WRITEUP

"Somebody," says W. H. Main, "sent the editor of the Cody (Wyo.) Courier a few bottles of grappa. The same day the editor received for publication a wedding announcement and a notice of an auction sale. Here is the result:

"William Smith and Miss Lucy Anderson were disposed of at public auction at my farm one mile east of a beautiful cluster of roses on her breast and two white calves, before a background of farm implements too numerous to mention in the presence of about seventy guests, including two milch cows, six mules and one bob sled. Rev. Jackson tied the nuptial knot with 200 feet of hay rope and the bridal couple left on one good John Deere gang plow for an extended trip with terms to suit purchasers. They will be at home to their friends with one baby buggy and a few kitchen utensils after ten months from date of sale to responsible parties and some fifty chickens."

Being Fooled

The first of April, is by general consent, "All Fools' Day." Before night ten thousand people will have opened boxes filled with sawdust, or kicked at soft hats with toe-contussing bricks under them, or bitten at some equally hackneyed "sell" and blushed at the words: "April Fool!"

Yet humiliating as it is to be hoaxed by a clever joker on April 1, it is far more disgusting to fool one's self, which can be done any day. The average man deceives himself a hundred times more often than he is tricked by any one else; and if he kicked himself literally as often as he does it figuratively, he'd soon be clothed in bruises from head to foot.

One of the prolific causes of self-fooling is that of taking things for granted, what is called in the language of the street, "taking a chance." A man of national fame recently explained his secret of success as "being prepared." He climbed to the top because other men, average men, took chances where he didn't. He was careful—he rarely fooled himself.

Now we come to the point in our talk that connects you with the bank. After making a lot of preliminary motions with the hammer, we are going to hit the nail hard right on the head—RENT A SAFE DEPOSIT BOX! Why? Because the man whose fire insurance policies, Liberty Bonds, receipted bills, deeds, contracts, jewelry and other valuables, are in safe deposit, has eliminated chances—he is not taking safety for granted, not fooling himself. He is fortified against fire, theft, and most of all, against personal carelessness resulting in accidental loss. If you rent a safe deposit box tomorrow, you will be following "All Fools' Day by an act of uncommon wisdom.

BODY OF SLAIN MAN IS WASHED ASHORE

Evidence of Brutal Murder is Revealed by Find

San Rafael—The body of a man, believed the victim of murderers, has been washed up on Angel Island near Fort McDowell and found by soldiers. The skull was fractured, there was a leather belt drawn tightly around the neck and the hands and feet were tied with wire.

The body was clothed in a blue serge suit of excellent material and black laced shoes, size No. 9. In one of the pockets was found a gold watch with the monogram "KL" on the case, and the engraving of a lion's head and a crown and crescent on the face, the maker's name "Leyonet" and the serial number 200116 were stamped on the inside. An empty leather purse also was found in one of the pockets.

The body had apparently been in the water about three weeks and the features were nearly obliterated. The man was about 40 years of age, weight 170 pounds, height 5 feet 10 inches. Deputy Coroner William Sorensen brought the body to the morgue here.

SENSATIONAL PRISON ESCAPE

Prisoner Leaves Penitentiary Hidden in Drygoods Box.

San Rafael—In a desperate escape from San Quentin prison in a box presumed to contain clothing made at the prison, and a wild run through the business district of San Rafael, Walter Higgins, convicted burglar, has thrown the little city into a panic, brought an army of guards from the prison on a man hunt and stirred the whole north bay region to action in an effort to capture him. Whether or not Higgins is armed is not known, but he has a bad prison record and the boldness of his escape has caused citizens and authorities alike to bend every effort to capture him.

No fiction could outdo the audacity of Higgins' escape in a drygoods box, or his flight in convict garb through the crowded business streets of San Rafael. Drygoods boxes supposed to contain only clothing were sent by truck from San Quentin to San Rafael Saturday and were dumped on a warehouse platform. Higgins was in one of the boxes.

Although seen by many in San Rafael, when he battered his way from the box in which he escaped, Higgins had not been found at last reports, despite the assertion of those who saw him that he ran through a crowded business street and disappeared in a business block in the center of San Rafael.

Prison authorities are still puzzled regarding Higgins' method of entering the box.

ANTI-FREEZE AGENTS FAVORED FOR WINTER

Most Motor Makers Recommend Alcohol and Glycerin.

Three Substances in General Use Which Can Be Prepared by Owner Without Consulting Any Professional Mechanic.

This is the open season for anti-freezing solutions, and car owners will save themselves much annoyance and considerable expense if they will but heed this warning and take ordinary precautions.

There are three substances in general use for making anti-freeze solutions, each of which can be prepared by the owner himself and used without having to consult the professional mechanic. Alcohol is probably the most popular of all anti-freeze agents. Glycerin has proved very effective, but its cost during the war made its use almost prohibitive to the ordinary owner. Calcium chloride is perhaps the most easily prepared solution of all and, for that reason, is widely used, but it is a dangerous solution to use. The commercial product, sold in solid form or in aqueous solutions as an anti-freeze mixture, is highly injurious because of the action on the components of the cooling system. Such alkaline solutions are productive of an electrical action wherever two dissimilar metals are utilized, such as the brass tubing of a radiator and the solder used at the joints, the iron water jackets and the brass or copper plates.

A summary of the opinions of motor car manufacturers as to the value of various anti-freeze solutions shows a decided preference for alcohol and glycerin. Neutral alcohol does not act on metal or on the rubber connections. But the alcohol in the solution will evaporate more rapidly than the water.

Plans are forming for a new irrigation district east of Dixon.

LEGION MEN WANT P. M. FIRED

Lincoln (Neb.) Post Takes Exceptions to Government Official's Demand for Use of German.

A resolution requesting the government to relieve Henry C. Jarms, postmaster of Emerald, Neb., from his office was passed by Lincoln (Neb.) Post No. 3 of the American Legion, as a result of the postmaster's efforts to supplant the American language by the German language in a church of Emerald.

The trouble started when the pastor of the church invited two Legion members to deliver patriotic addresses in the church. When the speakers appeared, Jarms objected to their presence and called for a vote of the congregation to decide whether they should be ousted. It was the will of the majority that the Legionnaires should not be heard. After the vote, the Legion members quietly left the church.

The pastor, whose invitation to the Legion men was made in an endeavor to conciliate the pro-German and American elements of his church in their controversy over the use of the American or German language, then took the floor and expressed his surprise at the turn of events and left the meeting.

In commendation of the patience of the American Legion members a Lincoln newspaper expresses the following sentiment in its editorial columns:

"The policy of the Legion to send speakers to address meetings on invitation only and to teach Americanism by example rather than by force, has everything to commend it. The small groups of unassimilated foreigners in this country can readily be curdled into compact masses by hate. On the other hand, they can be dissolved in time by patience and friendship. The American Legion is honoring the name it bears when it adopts the latter course."

STATE JOBS FOR VETERANS

Chairman Woman's Auxiliary Committee of New York Asserts World War Men Should Be Honored.

"If any class is favored in handing out state jobs it should be the veterans of the World war."

The speaker was Miss Ray C. Sawyer, chairman of the Women's Auxiliary Committee of the New York Department of the American Legion. Her audience was composed of members of the New York Assembly judiciary committee. Miss Sawyer spoke before the committee in behalf of a bill to give preference to veterans in civil service employment in New York. The bill was backed by the New York Legion organization.

CANNERY WAGE SCALE

Women Workers Affected by New Ruling of State Official

San Francisco—A new scale of piecerate wages for women engaged in the canning of asparagus and spinach has been announced. According to the new schedule, the 33 1-3 cents an hour formerly guaranteed to two-thirds of the women in the industry will now be allowed to one-half the women so engaged. That is, under the authority granted the commission of determining the number of apprentices allowed in an industry, this section will increase the number of workers to be designated as apprentices, and hence decrease the number entitled to the 33 1-3 cents an hour allowed trained workers. The new ruling will affect about 1000 women workers.

Many women workers in asparagus canneries in the eastern end of the county will be affected by the ruling.

FIRE DAMAGE AT LOS ANGELES

Los Angeles—A fire that destroyed a wharf, six sea-going yachts and the plant of the Seacraft Corporation at Los Angeles harbor, was extinguished after causing damage estimated at $250,000.

The yachts were on the ways of the Seacraft Corporation undergoing repairs. Two were owned by Dustin Farnum, actor.

The fire spread to the timber yard of a shipbuilding company and for a time threatened to destroy everything on Mormon island.

RICKENBACKER CUTS RECORD

Los Angeles—Eddie Rickenbacker, former American ace, made a new record last week when he flew from Oakland to Los Angeles in 2 hours and 32 minutes. The previous record was 3 hours and 1 minute.

The successful candidate is quite often a failure.

Pretty soon it will be easier to keep track of the auto owners by listing the names of those who don't own any.

"No-no. No can work for that."
